“ My mom was such an amazing woman who touched so many lives during her 81 years. The past few years, her voice was stolen from her by a disease known as aphasia. Mom finally has her voice back and is singing with the angels. You shared so much love with all of us, and we will miss you each and every day. Love you mom.

“ My heartfelt sympathy to the Herling family. Through the years I had the pleasure to work with Lois, she shared nothing but smiles, laughs, and joys with all of us. She raised a beautiful family and did such a great job in creating a wonderful library for the students of Visitation.
