“ Patricia Ashley charolette Shelby beckett words seem pointless at this time but hopefully the love behind them brings some comfort in your time of loss your not alone you all are in my prayers and heart I wish I could wipe away your tears and sorrow but sadly I can't so my advice is take aii the time you need to heal and let the tears wash away the pain then in time fill your heart and mind with memories of the happy times and the things about Michael that made him special and loved by you all I will keep you all in my prayers and heart always and if ever need me I am just a call away. popeye
