“ I can still hear Mr. Hans singing "Come to the Church in the Wildwood" and see him with his transistor radio tuned to the Reds game while he worked in his vegetable garden.

Mr. Hans was gentleman and family man who lived his faith. I'm certain he leaves a grieving family who will miss him every day. He will live on through all the loving and humorous memories he created for them to share.

God bless you Mr. Hans.

“ There is some beautiful music being made in heaven now with Grandma on the piano, Uncle Bob on the trumpet, and Uncle Spike on the baritone. Maybe Shirley and Grandpa are dancing and Young Bob singing to Laura. I imagine it was a happy reunion. We will miss these brothers and the leadership, laughter, and love they gave to our family for so many years. Peace to you all - Nancy
